Dear Burr:

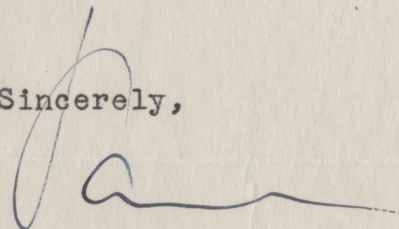

I have just come back from Montreal, and found your letter on my desk. Thank you for forwarding the check. It does make matters more complicated this way, but we shall leave it at that.

Unfortunately, I don't have time today to enlarge on concrete plans for the Institute, but a telegram just received from Dr. Griggs indicates that we may meet in Washington March 18, and there would be time to prepare details in the meantime.

Sorry to miss you next week, but glad to hear that you are taking on the Institute job.

Best wishes,

Sincerely,
