Text for the Bridge Songs

1. Far, far from each other

Matthew Arnold

Far, far from each other
Our spirits have flown,
And what heart knows another?
Ah! who knows his own?

Blow ye winds!
Lift me with you!
I come to the wild.
Fold closely, O Nature!
Thine arms round thy child.

Ah! Calm me! restore me
and dry up my tears.
On thy high mountain platforms,
where morn first appears.

2. Where is it that our soul doth go?

Words by Heinrich Heine

One thing I'd know,
When we have perished,
Where is it that our soul doth go?
Where, where is the fire, that is extinguished?
Where is the wind?
Where is the wind but now did blow?
Where is it? Where is it?
Where is it that our soul doth go?
When we have perished.

3. Music when soft voices die

Words by Percy Bysshe Shelley

Music when soft voices die,
Vibrate in the memory.
Odours, when the sweet violets sicken,
Live within the sense they quicken.

Rose leaves when the rose is dead,
Are heaped for the beloved's bed.
And so my thoughts when thou art gone,
Love itself shall slumber on.
Love itself shall slumber on.
